

Pennsylvania. This Saturday the families of the hikers will gather at the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia to hold vigil for Josh, Shane, and Sarah.

I am deeply taken by the steadfast determination and spirit of the families as they advocate for their children's health, safety, and release. The hikers have been detained far too long, and Iran should demonstrate compassion and release them back to their families here in the United States.

I ask my colleagues to join me in acknowledging and sympathizing with these three young Americans and their families and calling on the Government of Iran to release them now.

HONORING CESAR ALVAREZ, RECIPIENT OF THE NATIONAL SCOPUS AWARD

(Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Cesar Alvarez, a world-class lawyer and a pillar of our south Florida community.

This fall, the American Friends of The Hebrew University is bestowing upon Cesar its highest honor, the National Scopus Award. Named for the mountain upon which the university is built, the Scopus Award honors those who are true humanitarians.

Cesar has always shown impeccable leadership in both his professional and charitable endeavors, and his reputation for excellence is widely known. Through his law firm and so many charitable organizations, Cesar has had a significant and positive impact upon south Florida. For many years, Cesar has worked to forge alliances between our local Jewish and Cuban American communities. So it's particularly befitting that these two communities have come together to honor him.

Cesar, congratulations on this most recent of many recognitions. Your hard work and leadership are truly worth honoring and emulating.

WATER SUPPLY CHALLENGES IN THE SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

(Mr. COSTA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, as we return to our districts with the August recess, I want to call attention to the ongoing water supply challenges facing the San Joaquin Valley that I represent.

This year, we pushed the administration to use all the flexibility and power within the law to increase pumping to move water to our valley. We pushed to find additional water supplies that were not previously available at contract rates, and we were able to increase the water allocation for farmers in our valley significantly. We also pushed to bring critical water infrastructure projects, like the Intertie that we will have groundbreaking next month.

Our efforts have produced more than four times the amount of water we received last year, but our fight for water, for valley jobs, and for our economy is far from over. Unemployment is still unacceptable. This administration and Congress must continue to step up its support for the San Joaquin Valley, as farmers and farm communities need a sustainable water supply to grow the country's fresh fruits and vegetables, our Nation's food supply.

That is why it is more important than ever in the next water year for Federal and State agency leaders to use every tool in their water toolbox to ensure that water flows. That means we must work together with our local water agencies.

WHAT WE HAVE LEARNED IN 2065 YEARS?

(Mr. POE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. POE of Texas. Madam Speaker, everybody outside of Washington, DC, understands government spending is out of control.

For those inside the Beltway who don't get it, the Congressional Budget Office put out a report that explains it loud and clear. The report says, "Deficits will cause debt to rise to unsupportable levels."

That's right, unsupportable levels. Every family struggling right now that tries to make ends meet understands that you can't spend more than you make.

In 55 B.C. the Roman statesman and philosopher Cicero supposedly warned Rome before it crashed and burned: "The budget should be balanced, the Treasury should be refilled, public debt should be reduced, and the arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled, and the assistance to foreign lands should be curtailed, lest Rome become bankrupt. People must again learn to work, instead of living on public assistance."

So what have we learned in 2065 years since Cicero first said these words? Apparently government-gone-wild big spenders haven't learned a thing.

And that's just the way it is.

9/11 HEALTH AND COMPENSATION

(Mr. ISRAEL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ISRAEL. Madam Speaker, today we consider the 9/11 Health and Compensation Act.

In my district, John Sferazo is counting on us to pass this bill. John was at Ground Zero clearing rubble and removing debris. Today his breathing is labored and his health is precarious.

There are tens of thousands of John Sferazos in this country: 13,000 who are ill; 53,000 whose health is being monitored; 71,000 who were exposed to poisonous toxins. This bill ensures a network of health care providers and monitoring.

Now some are saying, let's wait, let's debate more let's slow down. When the towers fell, John Sferazo did not say let's wait, let's debate, let's slow down. The responders put aside their lives and health for us, and we should put aside our politics for them.

We are bringing this bill to the floor under the same expedited consideration that we use to name post offices. Certainly John Sferazo and tens of thousands of 9/11 responders are worth at least as much expeditious consideration as we use to name post offices.

MEDIA SHOULD GIVE FACTS ON IMMIGRATION LAW

(Mr. SMITH of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Madam Speaker, yesterday a Federal judge sided with the Obama administration against Arizona's immigration enforcement law.

The ruling will be seen by Arizonans and the vast majority of Americans who support the law as just another example of this administration's failure to deal with illegal immigration and border security.

Like the administration, the national media has shown a clear bias against the Arizona law. Network evening news coverage has been slanted against the Arizona law by a margin of 10-1, according to an analysis by the Media Research Center. Only one in six stories mentioned public opinion polls showing that Americans support the law.

The national media should give Americans the facts about Arizona's immigration enforcement law, not provide cover for the administration's failure to secure the border.

9/11 HEALTH AND COMPENSATION

(Mr. BISHOP of New York asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BISHOP of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support for the 9/11 Health and Compensation Act, which we will be considering later this morning. Consideration of this legislation is long overdue. Thousands of brave Americans are suffering from debilitating illnesses after being exposed to harmful toxins released by the debris of the World Trade Center.

The bill before us provides necessary medical monitoring and treatment to World Trade Center first responders, and those who worked or lived in downtown Manhattan on September 11. It also reopens the 9/11 Victim Compensation Fund to compensate those affected.
